Italian Equity Market

- Performance (-). The Italian equity market (prices as at 15 September 2023) has grown 1.3% in the last month and is up 19.9% YtD. The FTSE Italy Mid-Cap index (-2.3%) has underperformed the main index by 3.5% in the last month (-15.6% YtD on a relative basis), with the FTSE Italy Small Caps index (-1.2%) performing 2.5% below the market, or-24.0% on a relative basis since the beginning of 2023. Looking at mid/small cap performances across Europe, the MSCI Europe Small Caps index has decreased 1.0% in the last month, performing slightly better than Italian mid/small caps.
- Estimates (-). Since the beginning of 2023, we have implemented a +17.7% upward revision to our 2023 EPS estimates, with a more limited revision (+11.0%) to 2024 EPS; focusing on our mid/small cap coverage, however, we have raised 2023 EPS by a more moderate 5.5% since 1 January 2023. Notably, in the last month, we have not significantly changed our estimates for either FTSE MIB stocks (+0.3% on 2023 EPS) or our mid-cap coverage, but we have reduced our estimates for our small cap coverage (-3.2%).
- Valuations (=). If we compare performance YtD to the change in FY23 estimates over the same period, we see that FTSE MIB stocks have recorded a 3.0% de-rating YtD (the same metric was +0.5% one month ago); mid-caps have de-rated by 4.3%, while small caps have rerated by 16.6%. On a P/E basis, our panel is trading at a 30% premium to large caps, well above the historical average premium (17%) but slightly below the level one month ago (32%).
- Liquidity (+). Looking at official Italian index trends, we note that liquidity for large caps in the last month (measured by multiplying average volumes by average prices in a specific period) is 26.7% higher than in the corresponding period one year ago but is up just 1.3% from a YtD perspective. The picture is much more worrying for mid/small caps: specifically, YtD liquidity is down 17.9% YoY for mid-caps and 24.0% YoY for small caps, despite improving in the last month.
- Investment strategy. The macro picture continues to offer little support because the attitude of central banks has remained hawkish (although the ECB hike might be the last). Recently published results were mixed, with weaker-than-expected indications emerging in some sectors and starting to reflect the ongoing deterioration of outlook for industrial output and consumption that we consider to be the logical consequence of the current interest rate and inflation scenario. We still believe, though, that the risk of a fully-fledged recession is fairly limited. In this context, we advise investors to focus on stocks capable of enjoying good business visibility, whether this is because they operate in regulated businesses, boast significant order backlog, or benefit from sector trends with limited exposure to the economic cycle. In terms of PIR flows, we have further worsened the estimates after significant redemptions in the first 7 months and in light of important expected bond issues targeted at retail customers. We think that in some sectors, such as technological business services, valuations are particularly attractive, and that the underperformance should soon reverse. This also applies at the asset class level (mid/small caps vs. large caps).

Liquidity

Mid/small cap liquidity up in the last month but still weak YtD

Looking at official Italian index trends, we note that liquidity for large caps in the last month (measured by multiplying average volumes by average prices in a specific period) is 26.7% higher than in the corresponding period one year ago but is up just 1.3% from a YtD perspective. The picture is much more worrying for mid/small caps: specifically, YtD liquidity is down 17.9% YoY for mid-caps and 24.0% YoY for small caps, even if improving in the last month.

Very significant PIR outflows have continued

In its quarterly review on 25 May 2023, Assogestioni released updated figures on 1Q23 PIR inflows. During the quarter, ordinary PIRs saw outflows of Eu779mn, while Alternative PIRs recorded inflows of Eu58mn. In terms of AuM, ordinary PIRs had Eu17.8bn under management, while Eu1.5bn was invested in alternative PIR funds. Looking at ordinary PIRs, quarterly net inflows deteriorated further compared to 4Q22 and 3Q22, when net inflows were Eu-368mn and Eu-330mn respectively.

Regarding alternative PIR, inflows in 1Q23 came to Eu58mn, a reversal of the negative 4Q22 trend (Eu-9mn).

According to 'Osservatorio PIR', outflows continued in April, at Eu144mn, slowing down from the February and March trends. However, outflows in May and June were reported at Eu196.9mn and Eu201.9mn respectively, marking a new deterioration that leaves little room for optimism on the next few months. Outflows in July remained unsupportive and amounted to Eu169mn.

As a reminder, the features of PIR 3.0 are as follows: at least 70% of the fund must be invested in securities issued by listed Italian or EU companies having stable organisation in Italy; of this 70%, 25% (i.e. 17.5% of the total fund) must be invested in securities that are not on the main index (FTSE MIB in the case of Italian-listed stocks). The principal novelty in the new regulation is a mandatory minimum investment of 5% of the 70% (or 3.5% of the total fund) in small caps that are not listed on either the FTSEMIB or the FTSE MID indexes. This measure is likely to channel flows into a universe of small companies that are expected to obtain particular benefits from renewed investor interest. The new regulation also allows Italian pension funds to invest up to 10% of their assets in PIR funds. The fiscal benefit (unchanged) still relates to the elimination of capital gains tax after the investment is maintained in the fund for at least 5 years.

The Alternative PIR is a wrapper with tax benefits similar to PIR (i.e. tax exemption of capital gains for investments held for at least 5 years) and is capable of investing in ELTIFs, private equity funds or private debt funds. Because of the investments in illiquid assets (closer to the real economy but riskier), affluent investors are the target clients. The maximum investible amount per year is Eu300k per person (vs. Eu40k for PIR) up to a cumulative maximum of Eu1.5mn per person. Moreover, the concentration limit (i.e. max cumulative investment in a single stock) has been set at 20% (10% being the limit for regular PIR funds).

These alternative instruments are suitable for overcoming market volatility given their long-term commitment and are complementary to PIR funds in a broader sense (they are designed for semi-professional rather than retail investors).

ALTERNATIVE PIR vs. PIR 3.0

At least 70% of the fund must be invested in securities issued by Italian or EU companies having stable organisation in Italy that are small caps not listed on either the FTSEMIB or the FTSE MID indexes.

Reducing our estimates for ordinary PIRs

Assogestioni data for 1Q23 showed Eu779.1mn of outflows, and preliminary market data for April-July confirmed a similar negative trend. These figures have prompted us once again to revise our estimates for the year, which now point to outflows of Eu1.9bn (from Eu1.5bn). Our new forecast confirms our expectation for an improvement in numbers in 2H23, on which visibility remains low.

Looking at the reasons for redemptions from PIR funds, we can certainly hypothesise that many investors, noting positive performances as they pass the 5-year mark for maintaining the investment (meaning that tax benefits on capital gains are retained), have decided to cash in their PIR funds, thus enabling them to invest their savings in other funds and markets.

According to the press, the Italian government is looking at an amendment to allow investors to hold more than one personal savings plan (PIR). The plan would cost the government no extra budget as the investment ceiling of Eu40k a year per person (or Eu200k over 5 years) would remain unchanged. We very much welcome this initiative: if approved, we think it could relaunch inflows to PIR funds, as the advantage of diversifying over several PIR products could increase investments by individual investors.

In the long term, we do expect that interest in this product will remain fairly high thanks to the fiscal benefit and, from a distributor point of view, to the fact that it can count on long-term commitment from investors.

The main assumptions underpinning our current estimates are as follows:

- for 2023, we assume gross inflows from new PIR subscribers of Eu120mn;
- For continuing subscribers, we expect that overall inflows in year two will amount to a portion of the sum set aside in the first year (from 35% to 40% in our model); in the remaining years (i.e. from the third to the fifth year) we expect stable inflows, equivalent on average to 50% of the investments made in the second year;
- Finally, we calculate the amount of capital that will be withdrawn by investors who decide to exit the fund at ~16% of assets under management in 2023.

GUIDE TO FUNDAMENTAL RESEARCH

The main methods used to evaluate financial instruments and set a target price for 12 months after the investment recommendation are as follows:

- Discounted cash flow (DCF) model or similar methods such as a dividend discount model (DDM)
- Comparison with market peers, using the most appropriate methods for the individual company analysed: among the main ratios used for industrial sectors are price/ earnings (P/E), EV/EBITDA, EV/EBITD, EV/EBITD, EV/EBITDA, EV/EBITDA, EV/EBITDA
- Return on capital and multiples of adjusted net book value are the main methods used for banking sector stocks, while for insurance sector stocks return on allocated capital and multiples on net book value and embedded portfolio value are used
- For the utilities sector comparisons are made between expected returns and the return on the regulatory asset base (RAB)

Some of the parameters used in evaluations, such as the risk-free rate and risk premium, are the same for all companies covered, and are updated to reflect market conditions. Currently a risk-free rate of 4.0% and a risk premium of 5.5% are being used.
